

1
Hic donata. cuius festa germinis. sententia<sup>s</sup> dicitur
eius ~~...~~ auctor et conditor. ~~...~~

Handwritten text on a long, narrow strip of parchment, likely a fragment of a scroll. The text is written in a medieval script, possibly Gothic or Carolingian minuscule, and is arranged in two lines. The parchment is heavily stained and discolored, particularly in the center where it is folded. A pair of tweezers is visible on the right side, holding the strip. The text is partially obscured by the fold and staining.

Top line: ...
Bottom line: ...

tū dyonisiū mēm̄ tuū uirtute constantie i passione in

horasti: quos alio

rusticū & eleuatiōe

nobis. ex. cor. 11

Restore tunc gratia dicitur
et iusticia sacramenta cruciatu

Archangele dei michel iunctus sum et pro nobis in conspectu domini

